OUR FOUR FUNDAMENTAL QUALITY
PILLARS - IDENTIFYING GLOBAL BEST OF BREED BUSINESSES

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The Fund has adhered to its policy objective.

INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

We invest in best of class businesses for their quality, strategic competitive edge and value.

FUND COMMENTARY

In March world equity markets experienced the worst monthly performance for a year and a half (considering the MSCI ACTR index). Along with this, the US Dollar experienced its largest monthly depreciation in over two years. This follows predominantly from the various announcements of further US import tariffs and, as a result, rising investor fears of its potential effects on US economic growth and inflation. Against this, the approval of an ambitious German defence budget following their election, and the perception that more NATO member countries will follow suit, lead to positive views on the potential stimulatory effects on the wider European economy and the Euro currency.

These have led to a general risk-off stance on US equities in favour of European ones, with profit taking on US technology related names becoming a source of funding. Along with this, because of their large index weightings, the cutting of US passive exposures is also putting pressure on many of these stocks. US exceptionalism as an investor theme is being called into question.

Stock reactions in the portfolio have been largely driven by macro factors, rather than on business-specific ones. The best performing stocks in attribution terms were United Health, Boxer and Cadence. Health Care stocks have been more defensive during the market weakness. Against this, the worst performing stocks in attribution terms were Amazon, Alphabet and LVMH, explained by the earlier comments around technology and the US economy.

We have rebalanced the Fund during the month - largely trimming some of the technology related exposures and selling Edwards Lifesciences ("Edwards"). Edwards' growth is being impeded by continuing capacity constraints in the US hospital system and competition capturing market share. We have not yet reached our target exposure in the new holding.

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. CIS's are traded at the ruling price and can engage in scrip lending and borrowing. The collective investment scheme may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the Manager. There is no guarantee in respect of capital or returns in a portfolio. A CIS may be closed to new investors in order for it to be managed more efficiently in accordance with its mandate. CIS prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (brokerage, STT, VAT, auditor's fees, bank charges, trustee and custodian fees and the annual management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of participatory interests (units) in issue. Forward pricing is used. The Fund's Total Expense Ratio (TER) reflects the percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TER's. During the phase in period TER's do not include information gathered over a full year. Transaction Costs (TC) is the percentage of the value of the Fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the Fund's underlying assets. Performance has been calculated using net NAV to NAV numbers with income reinvested. The performance for each period shown reflects the return for investors who have been fully invested for that period. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestments and dividend withholding tax. Full performance calculations are available from the manager on request.
