FUND COMMENTARY

2024 will be remembered as one of the most difficult years for active investors, irrespective of their investment style. Whilst the market delivered fair positive absolute returns for many, most found it difficult to compete with popular indices. This can be ascribed to the popularity of a few large capitalization technology driven stocks that dominated index performance. The AI theme played a major role in the strong performance of the majority of these stocks.

In addition to this, the market was largely supported by the US economy and corporate earnings continuing to deliver above expectations, perceptions that US inflation is under control and the US election outcome. Against this, potential US trade tariff implications have raised new fears for inflation, interest rates and global trade war risks later on. Jerome Powell's caution around further cuts reinforced this dynamic. December saw some profit taking following the strong November performance, with an uncommon weak overall market for the month.

The best contributors to fund performance over December were Alphabet, Amazon and LVMH. Amazon continues to benefit from margin expansion, while positive perceptions around Alphabet's AI, their quantum computing chip and driverless car capabilities are growing strongly. LVMH, along with other luxury stocks, bounced from a weak November and constructive US holiday period sales. The largest detractors to performance were UnitedHealth, Eaton, and Adobe. UnitedHealth suffered from the assassination of their health care divisional CEO and regulatory fears. Eaton sacrificed its November gains, while Adobe shareholders were disappointed with management providing a lower than expected outlook.

The best contributors to performance over the full year were Amazon, Netflix and Alphabet. The Fund's strong positioning on the Fourth Industrial Revolution keeps delivering (Amazon and Alphabet). Despite Netflix being a relatively new addition to the fund, its strong advertising income outlook was well received by the market. Amongst the holdings, L'Oréal, Adobe and LVMH were the largest detractors from performance over the year. L'Oréal and LVMH continue to suffer from the weak Chinese consumer market, while Adobe's uncertain outlook was penalised.

OUTCOME OF FAIR VALUE ASSESSMENTS (2023)

Our assessment confirms:

- The fund meets the needs of the target market.
- The intended distribution strategy remains appropriate.
- The fund provides fair value to customers.

INVESTOR PROFILE

The fund is appropriate for all investor types, including those with only a basic knowledge of funds. It is compatible with investors who do not need a capital guarantee (investors must be prepared to accept fluctuations in the value of capital, including the ability to bear 100% capital loss) and are seeking capital growth. Due to the volatility of markets, investors should be willing to accept price fluctuations in exchange for the opportunity of potentially higher returns. This is a long term investment and investors should have an investment time horizon of at least 5 years. The recommended holding period does not provide any guarantee that the objective will be achieved. This product is eligible for all distribution channels (e.g. investment advice, portfolio management, non-advised sales and pure execution services).

The fund is unlikely to be appropriate for those who:

- Are looking for full capital protection or full repayment of the amount invested, and those who want a guaranteed return
- Have no risk tolerance
- Who are unwilling to accept price fluctuations (volatility) in the value of the fund
- Do not intend to invest for the long term

RISK PROFILE

The Fund is not guaranteed and your investment is at risk. The value of your investment may go down as well as up. The Fund may enter into derivative agreements with counterparties, and consequently there is a risk that a counterparty may fail to meet its obligations. This may lead to delays in the Fund receiving amounts due to it, receiving less than is due or receiving nothing. As the Fund has exposure to overseas securities, movements in exchange rates may, when not hedged, cause the value of your investment to increase or decrease. The Fund invests in equity and equity related securities which are subject to various risks including fluctuations in market prices, adverse issuer or market information and the fact that equity and equity related securities are subordinate in the right of payment to other corporate securities, including debt securities. The value of equity securities varies with the performance of the respective issuers and movements in equity markets generally. As a result, the Fund may suffer losses if it invests in equity of issuers where performance falls below market expectations or if equity markets in general decline or the Fund has not hedged against such a general decline. The Fund may hold a relatively small number of stocks (approximately 20 to 30 positions) as compared to many other funds. This may make the Fund's performance more volatile than would be the case if it had a more diversified investment portfolio. For full details of the Fund's risks, please see the prospectus and supplement sections entitled 'Risk Factors'.
