INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE & PHILOSOPHY

To achieve long-term growth in capital and income in a focused portfolio of high quality listed businesses from around the world. We invest in best in class businesses for their quality, strategic competitive edge and value.

FUND COMMENTARY

World equity markets ended the month broadly where they started. Despite a strong reporting season, volatility increased materially from a robust announcement on US new employment which heightened uncertainty as to whether the Federal Reserve will cut in December. Increasing reservations over OpenAI's ability to fund its infrastructure commitments contributed to the sharply increasing pricing of debt for several unprofitable technology businesses that are more reliant on debt funding. The share prices of many of these businesses came under pressure and affected the overall risk appetite.

From a fundamental perspective, the broad business backdrop remains reassuring. Following the completion of a strong US reporting season and increasing profitability, consensus one-year forward earnings expectations continue to increase despite the high earnings base. This is now expected at +12.9% for the S&P 500 Index.

The largest contributors to performance over the month were Alphabet, Broadcom and Stryker. Alphabet's stock continues its rerating following further information that their Gemini 3 AI tool is leading the competition and impressions that other technology companies are considering buying its custom TPU chips. For the first time Alphabet is also seen as a potential custom chip provider, even in competition with NVIDIA. Sentiment on Broadcom strengthened materially from these new perceptions as they work in partnership with Alphabet on the design of its custom chips. Following Stryker's raised guidance with their results, they had an Investor Day at which they communicated their strategic path towards expanding profitability. It also benefits from improving investor sentiment in the Health Care sector.

The largest detractors from performance were Eaton, Cadence Design Systems and Microsoft. Whilst they all declared strong results in October, their shares suffered from the intra-month volatility on AI-related stocks. They are all very profitable and cash generative, and their shares turned for the better close to month end despite continued weakness in less robust AI-related peers.

OUTCOME OF FAIR VALUE ASSESSMENTS (2024)

Our assessment confirms:

- The Fund meets the needs of the target market.
- The intended distribution strategy remains appropriate.
- The Fund provides fair value to customers.

INVESTOR PROFILE

The Fund is appropriate for all investor types, including those with only a basic knowledge of funds, it is compatible with investors who do not need a capital guarantee (investors must be prepared to accept fluctuations in the value of capital, including the ability to bear 100% capital loss) and looking for capital growth. Due to the volatility of markets, investors should be willing to accept price fluctuations in exchange for the opportunity of potentially higher returns. This is a long term investment. Investors should have an investment time horizon of at least 5 years. The recommended holding period does not provide any guarantee that the objective will be achieved. This product is eligible for all distribution channels (e.g. investment advice, portfolio management, non-advised sales and pure execution services).

The fund is unlikely to be appropriate for those who:

- Are looking for full capital protection or full repayment of the amount invested, and those who want a guaranteed return
- Have no risk tolerance
- Who are unwilling to accept price fluctuations (volatility) in the value of the fund
- Do not intend to invest for the long term

RISK PROFILE

The Fund is not guaranteed and your investment is at risk. The value of your investment may go down as well as up. The Fund may enter into derivative agreements with counterparties, and consequently there is a risk that a counterparty may fail to meet its obligations. This may lead to delays in the Fund receiving amounts due to it, receiving less than is due or receiving nothing. As the Fund has exposure to overseas securities, movements in exchange rates may, when not hedged, cause the value of your investment to increase or decrease. The Fund invests in equity and equity related securities which are subject to various risks including fluctuations in market prices, adverse issuer or market information and the fact that equity and equity related securities are subordinate in the right of payment to other corporate securities, including debt securities. The value of equity securities varies with the performance of the respective issuers and movements in equity markets generally. As a result, the Fund may suffer losses if it invests in equity of issuers where performance falls below market expectations or if equity markets in general decline or the Fund has not hedged against such a general decline. The Fund may hold a relatively small number of stocks (approximately 20 to 30 positions) as compared to many other funds. This may make the Fund's performance more volatile than would be the case if it had a more diversified investment portfolio. For full details of the Fund's risks, please see the prospectus and supplement sections entitled 'Risk Factors'.
