The Master Fund seeks to achieve long-term growth in capital and income in a focused portfolio of high quality listed businesses from around the world.

INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

We invest in best of breed businesses for their quality, strategic competitive edge and value.

FUND COMMENTARY

The world economy has most probably never before dipped so quickly into such a deep recession. Very few economies have escaped the severe disruptions COVID-19 is causing.

Investors are braced for sharp drops in earnings for the first two quarters of this year at least. Dividend cuts are no longer unusual. A baseline scenario for the virus developments indicate that the US GDP may return to its end-2019 level only by mid-2021. Such circumstances may be too dire for some to engage in equity investing today.

Capital markets most often focus on changes in perceptions rather than on the immediate economic outlook. The ‘rolling over’ of the total number of new virus infections is currently quite a focus area and the fact that medical services generally seem to be coping better than many had initially feared is important for investor sentiment. The fact that the debate has moved on to the best way to come out of the lock-downs implies the muddiest water is getting under the bridge. Governments and authorities now have much more information to manage the virus risks.

We expect a ‘new economic normal’ as we slowly make progress in turning the economic corner towards the end of the third quarter. The need for advanced technological solutions and services is expected to accelerate. The focus on good health care is expected to remain a priority. Businesses with strong balance sheets can capitalise on many new opportunities and the woes of weak competitors. Highly effective businesses can become even more competitive in a deflationary environment. As an example, the travel and logistics industry is expected to undergo huge restructuring.

We invest with our eyes on the horizon, making our case for very active stock selection instead of buying the so-called ‘market’, especially under the current dire economic circumstances. Such circumstances have historically proven to be a good time to invest.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

- Fundamental research driven
- Particular focus on quality of management, balance sheet strength, return on invested capital, free cash flow generation, ability to grow dividends each year

- Buy to hold and disciplined selling
- No benchmark orientation, no active trading, no leverage, no hedging

The TER displayed, which is for the period 1 January 2019 to 31 December 2019, is based on the ASISA methodology, is higher than the expected TER of the fund due to the high weight allocated to past costs prior to the increase in fund size. The estimated actual TER payable by a client investing into the fund today would be 1.04%. Transaction Costs are a necessary cost in administering the Financial Product and impacts Financial Product returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Financial Product, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.
