PORTFOLIO MANAGER PERFORMANCE

PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

The Global Balanced Portfolio returned -1.7% in February, taking 2025 returns to 1.3% so far.

In February, the US economy demonstrated resilience amid policy uncertainties. A decline in retail sales in early February sparked concerns about growth, while inflation remained a worry, with the US CPI inflation coming in higher than expected for January. Consequently, the Federal Reserve maintained its target for short-term interest rates at 4.25%-4.5%, with potential rate cuts anticipated in the latter half of the year. Economic growth in the Eurozone was modest, prompting the European Central Bank to cut rates to support weak growth and maintain inflation near target. The ECB's deposit rate was reduced to 2.75% in late January, with further cuts expected throughout the year.

The equity portfolio marginally lagged global markets driven by weaker performance from holdings exposed to US exceptionalism; our small cap holding, Driehaus, suffered from a sharp sell-off in companies linked to AI infrastructure, while relative performance within their Biotech holdings was also a key detractor. Elsewhere, Polar Insurance delivered strong absolute results, but marginally lagged its benchmark largely driven by weaker performance from their largest holding, Arch Capital. Fixed income markets continued their positive start to the year in February, helped by core government yields moving lower, while corporate credit spreads were unchanged in Europe and slightly wider in the US.

INVESTOR PROFILE

The Fund is appropriate for all investor types, including those with only a basic knowledge of funds, it is compatible with investors who do not need a capital guarantee (investors must be prepared to accept fluctuations in the value of capital, including the ability to bear 100% capital loss) and looking for capital growth.

Due to the volatility of markets, investors should be willing to accept price fluctuations in exchange for the opportunity of potentially higher returns. This is a long-term investment. Investors should have an investment time horizon of at least 5 years. The recommended holding period does not provide any guarantee that the objective will be achieved. This product is eligible for all distribution channels (e.g. investment advice, portfolio management, non-advised sales and pure execution services).

The Fund is unlikely to be appropriate for those who:

- Are looking for full capital protection or full repayment of the amount invested, and those who want a guaranteed return
- Have no risk tolerance
- Who are unwilling to accept price fluctuations (volatility) in the value of the fund
- Do not intend to invest for the long-term

RISK PROFILE

The following risks are material in addition to the risks captured by the indicator above:

- The price of units/shares and any income from them may fall as well as rise and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Past performance is not a guide to future performance. There is no assurance that the investment objective of the Fund will actually be achieved.
- Where investments are in the shares of companies (equities), the value of those equities may fluctuate, sometimes dramatically, in response to the activities and results of individual companies or because of general market and economic conditions or other events.
- Investment in other funds may mean that the objectives and risk profiles of those underlying funds may not (always) be fully in line with those of the Fund.
- Credit risk is the risk of loss stemming from a borrower's failure to repay the loan or meet its contractual obligation.
- Bond values are affected by changes in interest rates, inflation and any decline in creditworthiness of the bond issuer.

All the risks currently identified as being applicable to the Fund are set out in the 'Risk' section of the Prospectus.
