FUND COMMENTARY

The Fund returned 1.4% during the quarter versus the estimated benchmark return of -3.6%. The quarter started well with equities rallying in July on the expectation of Federal Reserve cuts in 2023 helping to steer the economy towards a soft landing; however, central bank commitments to continue prioritising tightening over economic growth resulted in steep falls in September.

The equity book for the most part saw a different set of winners and losers versus the first six months of the year, as a number of our growth strategies delivered better results. Driehaus, our US Small Cap manager, was the best performer on the back of strong returns from a number of its cloud-based software and healthcare holdings. Findlay Park, our US quality strategy, saw good share price gains from real estate analytics firm, CoStar, and waste services firm, Waste Connections. Veritas Asia was another strategy that struggled earlier in the year but is now seeing a pick-up in positive earnings revisions versus their investable universe.

The strategies that struggled in the quarter included those with more exposure to smaller companies within regions facing greater macroeconomic challenges and those exposed to premium areas within the consumer space. Both JO Hambro and GLG Undervalued Assets faced a difficult backdrop with investors pricing

Registered Office: 15 Suffolk Street, London, SW1Y 4HG. in difficulties for small and medium sized businesses in Continental Europe and the UK. Fidelity, Stonehage Fleming Global Best Ideas and to a lesser extent Edgewood were impacted by a number of their consumer businesses, with the likes Estee Lauder (cosmetics) a shared holding between the latter two.

Activity during the quarter including selling our investment in US manager, Lyrical, and reinvesting the proceeds into a global fund, Dimensional Global Targeted Value Fund. Both strategies have a preference for small and medium sized businesses trading on low valuation multiples, which is a space we are positive on and look cheap versus the broader market. Through Dimensional, we are able to access the space through a low cost, well-constructed quantitative process that doesn't charge a performance fee. Lyrical remains a reasonable Fund within the US Value space but the higher potential fees and a lack of alpha in recent years has prompted the switch. Edgewood, our US Growth strategy, was also sold following concerns on the resilience of the earnings on some of their underlying companies, many of whom were beneficiaries of the pandemic. A position in an energy ETF was also initiated at the beginning of the quarter reflecting our positive view on the outlook for the industry.
