PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

The Global Multi Asset Portfolio Class C returned -1.5% in October versus -0.7% for the benchmark in sterling terms. Increased uncertainty from rising COVID-19 cases in Europe and the US continued to weigh on returns of risk assets, with markets slipping towards the end of the month in reaction to tightening restrictions. Relatively encouraging economic data in the US helped to cushion losses; however, European markets particularly struggled in the face of reimposed national restrictions damaging consumer sentiment. Emerging markets markedly outperformed and recorded gains, lifted by significant outperformance in China, with its effective handling of coronavirus containment buoying the economic recovery.

The equity book in aggregate marginally underperformed global equity markets. Our European equity holdings struggled as the region as a whole performed poorly. Some of our more quality and growth oriented strategies, including Stonehage Fleming Global Best Ideas and iShares NASDAQ ETF, performed less well during the month as technology businesses gave back some of their gains for the year. Growth businesses did continue to perform well in Asia though, and this was reflected in good performance from our Fidelity Emerging Markets strategy. We also saw a pick-up in performance from our US Value manager, Lyrical, as holdings in a global logistics business and electronics manufacturing business contributed positively.

Within fixed income, we had positive contributions from our credit managers, Bluebay and PIMCO, as well as our emerging market debt manager, BlackRock. Within alternatives, we introduced a position in gold to aid portfolio diversification and also reflecting our positive view on the demand/supply dynamics in the industry.

ACTIVE MANAGER IN FOCUS

BlueBay Global Investment Grade Corporate Bond Fund

Bluebay Global IG represents an allocation to traditional, “pure-play”, investment grade credit with a quality biased “stock-picker” fund manager. Exposures are predominantly long but the team can implement a negative view on credits or indices through credit default swaps (CDS). The main driver of performance and focus from the manager is bottom-up credit selection and thorough fundamental analysis, although the fund can also take advantage of opportunistic dislocations in credit markets. In a challenging year for risk, the fund has outperformed the broader investment grade space through credit selection, having positioned the portfolio well in both the sell-off and recovery.
