PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

It was reported that UK inflation increased to 3.8% in July and was expected to reach 4% in September due to the proposed increase to the cap in energy bills but was then expected to begin a decline towards the 2% target set by the Bank of England. Despite this, the Bank of England's Monetary Policy Committee decided, by a narrow majority, to reduce Bank Rate by 0.25% to 4%. Whilst in the US, inflation was running at 2.7% and the Chair of the Federal Reserve - Jerome Powell indicated that interest rates might be cut in September. Trump Tariffs on imported goods continued to make headline news with a new 50% rate imposed on India to punish the country for buying oil from Russia. In the meantime, talks of negotiations for peace in the Ukraine/Russia conflict continue and with no real progress in the Gaza situation. In the UK, gilt yields continued to rise and the 30-year gilt edged over 5.6% which represented the highest level since 1998. The main concern continued to be the need to raise taxes and/or adjust thresholds in the Autumn Budget, due to a growing budget deficit. The UK Stock Market was little changed in the month with smaller company shares drifting back on lack of interest in the summer holiday period.

In a quiet month, we added to our holding in Ashtead Tech (oil services) and reduced two of our larger holdings. At the beginning of the month Johnson Services (laundry services) moved from AIM to the main market. When this process occurs, there is considerable pressure on the share price as IHT holders are obliged to sell and prospective buyers will be looking to buy the shares cheaply. Fortunately, we are able to hold a percentage of non-AIM listed shares in the Fund and we will do this until the potential is reflected in the current share price. A similar situation arose with GAMMA which we held for a few weeks before selling after it transferred to the main market.

Looking ahead, we would expect a period of uncertainty to remain ahead of the budget and hope that to offset the rise in taxation, there will be incentives to reinvigorate the economy. At current levels the UK stock market remains attractive. Consequently, we are positive about the medium-term outlook for the fund. Many shares listed on AIM are undervalued and we would expect investors' interest to return if benefits of some IHT relief are maintained.

AWARDS

RISK PROFILE

The following risks are material:

- The price of units/shares and any income from them may fall as well as rise and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Past performance is not a guide to future performance. There is no assurance that the investment objective of the Fund will actually be achieved.
- Where investments are in the shares of companies (equities), the value of those equities may fluctuate, sometimes dramatically, in response to the activities and results of individual companies or because of general market and economic conditions or other events.
- Significant exposure to a particular industrial sector or geographical region puts the Fund at risk of a localised event making a significant impact on the value of the Fund.

- Shares purchased on the AIM markets (especially those known as 'penny shares') carry a higher degree of risk of losing money than other UK shares.
- The requirements on companies that are listed on AIM market are less stringent than those for companies with a full market listing.
- There is usually a wider spread between the buying price and the selling price of these shares if they have to be sold quickly.
- There may be difficulty or delay in buying and selling shares due to a low level of trading activity on the AIM market (referred to as lack of liquidity).
- The businesses and companies are subject to higher risk of failure and so the risk of insolvency is also higher for these type of shares. This could mean that you lose all or significantly large part of the investment is shares of companies which are insolvent.

All the risks currently identified as being applicable to the Fund are set out in the 'Risk' section of the Prospectus.

TM STONEHAGE FLEMING AIM FUND

INVESTOR PROFILE

The Fund is appropriate for all investor types, including those with only a basic knowledge of funds. It is compatible with investors who do not need a capital guarantee (investors must be prepared to accept fluctuations in the value of capital, including the ability to bear 100% capital loss) and are seeking capital growth. Due to the volatility of markets, investors should be willing to accept price fluctuations in exchange for the opportunity of potentially higher returns. This is a long term investment and investors should have an investment time horizon of at least 5 years. The recommended holding period does not provide any guarantee that the objective will be achieved. This product is eligible for all distribution channels (e.g. investment advice, portfolio management, non-advised sales and pure execution services).

The Fund is unlikely to be appropriate for those who:

- Are looking for full capital protection or full repayment of the amount invested, and those who want a guaranteed return
- Have no risk tolerance
- Who are unwilling to accept price fluctuations (volatility) in the value of the Fund
- Do not intend to invest for the long term
