PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

The UK stock market continued its recovery in the month and AIM shares put on a strong performance, with the Numis Alternative Markets (incl. investment companies) index up by 9.5%. During this period, the TM Stonehage Fleming AIM Fund increased by 6.3%, giving back some of last month's outperformance.

In the month, IMI Mobile received an agreed cash takeover bid and we sold our holding, as the funds can be better employed elsewhere. Part of the proceeds were used to add to our interest in Avingtrans and Mirriad which were relatively new holdings where we held relatively small positions.

Much to the markets relief, a deal was achieved with BREXIT, and although some aspects need to be worked out in coming months, the structure is in place moving forward. Perhaps the most important factor is that there will be no trade tariffs on movement of goods between the UK and Continental Europe. A negative economic factor has been the further lockdown to prevent the further spread of the new strain of COVID-19. Against this, the approval of two COVID-19 vaccines and their roll-out is a positive development. The stock market tends to look ahead, which suggests that there is "light at the end of the tunnel". Many companies have become leaner and more efficient since the pandemic hit the economy, and government support, at a time of low interest rates, has cushioned the effect in some areas in need of assistance. Elsewhere we have found many companies are trading in line with management expectations, and smaller companies listed on AIM are particularly adaptable to a changing landscape. We have taken advantage of market conditions over the last year so that the TM Stonehage Fleming AIM Fund portfolio is well positioned over the medium term.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Derivatives have not been used but are allowed if appropriate for efficient asset management. The Fund only invests in UK assets but is allowed to hold shares on overseas exchanges. This would occur in the event of a company delisting from the London stock market and would not be expected to be material. Hence, there would be limited foreign exchange risk.

The fund invests in AIM listed companies, which can carry a higher risk of failure and be less liquid than shares listed on other exchanges. These may experience greater price movements and wider spreads (difference between the buying and selling prices) which could affect the value of the fund.
