This partnership made a compelling proposition and after 27 years at Investec he joined Cavendish Asset Management in November 2017 to jointly manage the funds. The acquisition of Cavendish Asset Management was made by Stonehage Fleming in July 2020. Nick is the co-manager of the TM Stonehage Fleming Aim Fund and the TM Stonehage Fleming Opportunities Fund.

PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

The London stock market was little changed over the month, and the Numis Alternative Markets (incl. investment companies) Index moved 0.9% higher. Investments in the TM Stonehage Fleming AIM Fund substantially outperformed and increased by 6.3% due to a large number of positive trading statements.

The notable event was an agreed cash takeover bid for our holding in Scapa and we took the opportunity to sell our holding at a premium to the takeover offer price so that we could deploy the proceeds to better advantage elsewhere. We added to several holdings and participated in the Supreme Plc IPO. The company manufactures and supplies batteries, lighting, vaping, nutritional products and other branded consumer goods. The offer was oversubscribed and we have subsequently added to our position, as our initial demand was scaled back.

Now that the BREXIT situation has been somewhat resolved, the main negative factor facing the economy is the stricter controls imposed following the further emergence of new strains of the coronavirus. However, unlike the situation a year ago, companies have been able to adapt and there is much less disruption outside the leisure, retail and hospitality sectors. The welcome news has been the strong roll-out of the vaccination programme in the UK. It is difficult to tell when restrictions will be relaxed but the situation and likelihood that it will occur have improved. We have had presentations from a large number of companies and most are leaner and fitter with company management giving some positive signals on future prospects. A major factor moving forward is the sharp rise in oil and gas prices which has not been fully reflected in this sector of the stock market. Provided that prices remain near current levels we would expect this to have a positive influence on the portfolio performance. Our view remains that the TM Stonehage Fleming AIM Fund is also well placed to take advantage of economic conditions as they improve.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Derivatives have not been used but are allowed if appropriate for efficient asset management. The Fund only invests in UK assets but is allowed to hold shares on overseas exchanges. This would occur in the event of a company delisting from the London stock market and would not be expected to be material. Hence, there would be limited foreign exchange risk.

The fund invests in AIM listed companies, which can carry a higher risk of failure and be less liquid than shares listed on other exchanges. These may experience greater price movements and wider spreads (difference between the buying and selling prices) which could affect the value of the fund.
