PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

Following the surprise snap General Election announced by the Prime Minister, political parties produced their manifestos and politicians were busy canvassing ahead of the July 4th polling day. According to opinion polls the Labour Party is heading for a substantial majority of seats in the Houses of Parliament. Both major parties have promised not to increase national insurance contributions and to keep income tax, corporation tax and VAT unchanged. Assuming the Labour Party gets elected, it will need to finance some of the measures covered in its mandate. Uncertainty therefore exists on whether it will tinker with Capital Gains Tax and pensions. Equally, it may well increase the level of the energy "windfall" tax but this would have a damaging effect on employment and make the UK more dependent on Oil and Gas imports. A major positive is that Sir Kier Starmer is referring to the Labour Party as one of moderation and perhaps a change of stance over the last few years. Rather like the Blair Government, he is wanting to grow the economy and appears to be business friendly. This being the case a more stable government should be beneficial to smaller companies. Inflation has fallen to Bank of England's Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) 2% inflation target leading to the possibility of a reduction in interest rates. Any incoming government would review the inflation target but it is likely to remain unchanged. Most opinion polls have forecast a Labour election victory for several months and the stock market has remained firm with evidence of investors' confidence returning to smaller companies. Several companies listed on AIM have been subject to takeover and recycling of the proceeds by IHT funds would have a positive effect on the AIM market.

We acquired a holding in BP during the month as a recovery situation in an out of favour sector of the market. The company has a strong cash flow which will enable it to take advantage of oil and gas exploration prospects on a global basis. Equally the shares offer a decent dividend yield and we have purchased the shares at the bottom of the trading range following weakness in the share price on the run up to the general election. MS International, our largest holding, produced spectacular results and for technical reasons, following the sharp rise in the share price, we were compelled to reduce our holding. It is encouraging that smaller companies and those listed on AIM are beginning to outperform the rest of the stock market. There is always the possibility of an incoming new Government tampering with inheritance tax relief but it seems more likely that the Labour Party will want to encourage investment in this area of the stock market. The General Election will remove an area of uncertainty but conflicts in the Middle East and Ukraine remain in the background. Smaller UK company shares are attractively priced and with the prospect of a reduction in interest rates by the end of the year we feel that the fund is well placed to offer above average capital appreciation.

OUTCOME OF FAIR VALUE ASSESSMENTS (2023)

Our assessment confirms:

- The fund meets the needs of the target market.
- The intended distribution strategy remains appropriate.
- The fund provides fair value to customers.

INVESTOR PROFILE

The fund is appropriate for all investor types, including those with only a basic knowledge of funds. It is compatible with investors who do not need a capital guarantee (investors must be prepared to accept fluctuations in the value of capital, including the ability to bear 100% capital loss) and are seeking capital growth. Due to the volatility of markets, investors should be willing to accept price fluctuations in exchange for the opportunity of potentially higher returns. This is a long term investment and investors should have an investment time horizon of at least 5 years. The recommended holding period does not provide any guarantee that the objective will be achieved. This product is eligible for all distribution channels (e.g. investment advice, portfolio management, non-advised sales and pure execution services).

The fund is unlikely to be appropriate for those who:

- Are looking for full capital protection or full repayment of the amount invested, and those who want a guaranteed return
- Have no risk tolerance
- Who are unwilling to accept price fluctuations (volatility) in the value of the fund
- Do not intend to invest for the long term

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

This is a marketing communication issued by Stonehage Fleming Investment Management Limited (SFIM). SFIM is the investment manager of the Fund. All investments risk the loss of capital. No guarantee or representation is made that the funds will achieve their investment objective. The value of investments may go down as well as up. For products designed to return income, the distributions can also go down or up and you may not receive back the full value of your initial investment. Derivatives have not been used but are allowed if appropriate for efficient asset management. The Fund only invests in UK assets but is allowed to hold shares on overseas exchanges. This would occur in the event of a company delisting from the London stock market and would not be expected to be material. Hence, there would be limited foreign exchange risk. Past performance is not a guide to future returns. If the information is not displayed in your base currency, then the return may increase or decrease due to currency fluctuations.
